

Corporate Responsibilities Chief Executives Statement.

As a leading manufacturer, long established family business and employer in the consumer goods field we take the responsibility that this brings very seriously in all sectors that our activities touch.

We are passionate about acting in a way that improves or helps people's lives and doing so in a way that looks after the environment our staff and all key stakeholders as much as we can.

Much of this is embodied within the policies and statements on these pages.

We endeavour to do the right thing in manufacturing as much as we can locally and therefore with the least environmental impact using world leading technologies, we also actually create products that really make a difference (such as our world leading energy efficient non electrical dryers or our new recycling solutions).

We have a commitment to always improve, as nothing should or indeed does stand still. We use wherever we can the latest efficient machinery, we generate a considerable amount of the power we consume ourselves and we use wherever possible recycled or regenerated quality materials. Our products are also built to last.

The above is just a snapshot but please read our policies and statements and if there are any comments or improvements that you think we can make we will always listen, please email these to info@minky.co.uk

Martin Fuchs

Chief Executive